Special COVID Measures

Due to the Washington State Agricultural Event Guidelines things may be a little different than we are all used to. Please be patient while we all negotiate the requirements.

Access is limited to entered competitors. No spectators, vendors, guests or visitors. Owners who are using a handler may attend but please keep numbers to a minimum.

All Confirmations and Run Orders will be provided electronically so please be sure your email address is legible and accurate on any entry forms or other correspondence.

Please park responsibly and maintain social distancing. Please use both upper parking lot behind the Secretary Building and the parking area near Arena A to ensure sufficient spacing between vehicles.

Social distancing must be maintained at all times while you are on the Farm.

There will be hand sanitizer available at the Secretary Building and various locations around the Farm. Handlers are encouraged to wear masks, gloves and to bring/use their own pen.

Only essential personnel will be admitted into the Secretary's Office.

Please study the course description and map in your rule book or at the AHBA website <http://www.ahba-herding.org/>. To reduce the numbers attending a handler's meeting, judges will conduct a meeting per class. Only competitors entered in that class will attend and are required to be masked and to practice social distancing.

Scores will be posted at the Secretary's Building as they are received from the Judge. All scoresheet copies will be emailed to competitors as soon as possible the day of the event. No hard copies will be distributed at the event. A daily marked catalog will be emailed to each competitor at the end of each day.

We are asking that once your run(s) are completed, that you leave the Farm.

Placement ribbons will not be presented unless requested by the competitor

HIT and RHIT will be awarded at the end of each day and an email sent to competitors to advise them of the winners. High Combined will be awarded on Sunday at the conclusion of the trial. All awards for this trial will be in the form of Gift Cards. Gift Cards and ribbons will be mailed to the recipients. No awards ceremony will be held.

No food will be available on site. Competitors must bring their own food & beverages. The house (including porch and any other designated areas) is off limits to general use – only specific individuals will be allowed in the house. Be sure to bring your own chairs, etc.

PLEASE BE PATIENT with our attempts to negotiate our Washington State guidelines and still put on this event for you!

Please fill out one entry form, per dog.
